The Meeting This Evening.

The first of the series of business-men' neetings to be held under the auspice of our Chamber of Commerce will take place this afternoon. A number of genlemen who are prominent and active he business affairs of this city have sgreed to make short speeches, setting orth their views as to the best methods promoting the growth and prosperity of Richmond. These gen-lemen will point out the adcantages that we possess, and which should be developed, and the difficulties that are in out way, and ought to be re-

If we rightly understand this move nent, it is not the intention of the Champer of Commerce to rest after the speeches have been made, but to follow hem up with active, energetic, intelligent committee work.

Every suggestion of value will be reerred to an appropriate committee, where t will be faithfully followed up and utilised to the best possible advantage.

As we have more than once said, Richmond has had a fair share of advertisenent. Her advantages and attractions have been extelled in hundreds of newspapers, pamphlets, and books. Great orators, too, have spoken well of us, and doubtless these things have been bene ficial. But nothing can or will take the place of organized effort to sustain and extend the industries that we now have, and to bring new ones here. The truth is that we need more shoulder to shouldwork here; more faith in our city's tuture; more display of public spirit. We night to be more helpful to our strug-; og business-men; more eager to bring sw capital and industries here; less tealous for self and more watchful for he common good.

We have no idea at all what course his evening's discussion will take, but 10 matter where it begins or how it ends, we trust that it will be followed up in i practical and determined way. Energetic ommittee work should follow the sugestions of those speakers whose idea tre good. If this be not done the meet ng will pass out of sight and memory together, and will fail to accomplish what is expected of it.

Turn out, business-men, and make the neeting a success-a success not merely n numbers, but in enthusiasm, in intelli gent purpose, and in every other respect. Let us resolve to create and cultivate aere henceforth a public spirit which may always be relied upon to make the best of every opportunity for Richmond.

Don't Put Out the Lights.

The business-men's meeting to be held his afternoon needn't go to theorizinghere is a subject ready-made for it. It is whether pending the dispute between the City Council and the electric light company the electric lights on our streets shall be turned off. The gas lamps, upon which we formerly

-elled, and which are now out of date, will not be ready for use by Saturday night, when, according to the Committee on Light, the city is to be plunged into larkness, or at any rate partial dark-

We do not believe that this action of the committee is going to be approved by the Richmond public. It is too sudden, it indicates pettishness, and it is too irastic. Morcover, we tell the friends of a city electric-light plant, that it will illenate many worthy people who have heretofore been in favor of municipal wnership of electric-light works.

The electric-lights ought to be kept going, under a temporary arrangement, antil the questions now at issue can be set iled. For Richmond to stop the use of electric lights on her streets, even for a week, will make us the butt of universal ridicule. It will be in vain for us to hold "business-men's meetings" and talk about our "advantages," our "progress," etc., at the very time that the electric light is being forced off the streets.

The worst of the thing is that unle there can be an agreement between the City Council and the Electric company we shall have to content ourselves with gas lamps for street lighting until we can raise the money and build an electric-light plant.

The electric light company is willing to give the Committee on Light all the credit that it wants, and a due regard for the reputation of Richmone should induce the Committee on Light to retrace its steps at once, The business-men who are to meet this afternoon could not do a better thing than to offer their mediation in a respectful way, with a view to averting this misfortune, which will surely bring ridicule upon our community, and is not likely to be a step in the direction of true

In recent years in Great Britain the income-tax has been levied on incomes of $750 and over, and has averaged a little less than 3 per cent. The incometax yields from $60,000,000 to $65,000,000 a year to Great Britain.

Austria's income-tax ranges from 10 per cent, on invested capital to 20 per cent. from the learned professions and on insurance dividends. From 12 to 15 per cent, the rates in Italy range by grada tion and classification, and an additional tenth is extorted as a contribution to the war fund. Switzerland also has high rates also vary with different cantons.

On the general average, however, the laborer pays 2 per cent, the mercantile employee, 5 per cent. ; the small manufacturer, 10 per cent., and the wealthy capitalist. 25 per cent. Denmark exempts incomes of less than $215, and on the others the rate is about 3 per cent. Sweden and Forway exempt $125, and put a tax of tom % to 1 per cent. to 1% on higher incomes. The rates in the German States vary from 1 to 4 per cent., $105 and under being exempt

The Times and the Court. The Times continues to argue that, bound by a certain rule of law, Messrs. Keith, Riely, Cardwell, Buchanan, and Harrison, as judges, gave expression to an opinion which they personally and unofficially knew was at variance with the facts.

In the Brunswick case the Supr Court of Appeals said, in speaking of the Walton law, that "It cannot be doubted that it was the purpose of the Legislature to frame a law which would promote fair elections." And the court repudlated the idea advanced by the petitioners that the elaborate provisions the law were artfully contrived expedients to entrap the ignorant voters.

But the Times insists that the court was bound, as a court, to say that "it could not impute to a co-ordinate branch of the government an intention to perpetrate a fraud. Of course, it was bound, as a court, to give that department the benefit of every presumption." "Nevertheless," the Times continues, "common sense-men know that the presumption in this case is a violent one, and that the real purpose intended to be accomplished (by the law) was the disfranchisement of he liliterate negroes or the counting of their ballots in just the opposite way from which they wished them counted." And further on the Times declares its belief that "the court knows the actual state of the case as well as the rest of the people of Virginia." Outside of the Times office and a few other circles "the rest of the world" knows no such thing as the Times al-There is absolutely no proof to leges. ustain the charges of the Times.

Judge Cardwell was a member (and Speaker) of the House of Delegates at the ession when the Walton law was passed, and he was the most influential supporter suppose him capable of occupying the position which the Times ascribes to the members of the court is to suppose him guilty of a crime. He was a sworn servant of the Commonwealth when he used his voice and vote in favor of the passage of the Walton bill, and he is a sworn officer of the Commonwealth now, and he could not play the dual role of saying a thing officially and disbelieving it unofficially without abandonment of those high principles which have given him in an extraordinary degree, the confidence and respect of the people.

There is not a judge on our Supreme Bench who has not had equally as good opportunities as the Times to judge of the motives of the men who passed the Waiton law. If they had come to the same conclusion that the Times has they could not have accepted office at the hands of such legislators. They would have shunned contact with such polluting creatures. So we have every right to believe, as we do believe, that when our Supreme Court of Appeals said that "it cannot be doubted that it was the purpose of the Legislature to frame a law which would promote fair elections," it expressed an official opinion which is identical with the individual opinion of its members.

This expression of the court's doesn't please the Times very much, but it will be very helpful to McKinney, Tucker, Otey, and Swanson in their contests. Whenever a Republican member quotes the Richmond Times as saying that the Virginia law was "conceived in fraud," a Democratic member can rise and offset the Times's view by quoting the language of our highest court-to wit. "It cannot be doubted that it was the purpose of the Legislature to frame a law which would promote fair elections," and that it cannot think "that all of the elaborate provisions of the act in question are but artful expedients contrived for the purpose of deluding, entrapping, and de-frauding the ignorant voters of this Commonwealth.'

Fitz Lee's Appointment.

The appointment of General Fitzhugh Lee to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Western District of Virginia, in ace of our deceased friend, Ham Sheperd, is one which the people of Virgini neartily approve, though they could wish that the office were a bigger one than

As yet we do not know whether the General will accept the position or not. It may or may not suit his plans for the

The President long ago offered General Lee high position in the diplomatic service abroad, but the General was unwilling to leave Virginia. Now the President gives him opportunity to serve his country at home, and at a very comfortable salary, too. General Lee's popularity is such that the people feel a personal interest in his decision in this matter.

Our Visiting Friend.

Postmaster-General Wilson is welcome to Richmond. All of our people are his They have watched his public life with interest, and have been glad of every promotion that has come to him. This is not saying that we have always agreed with him as to every detail of public policy, but it is saying that we have always admired his ability, honesty, courage, and zeal in every cause that he has espoused.

Mr. Wilson is the first Democratic Cabinet officer that West Virginia has furnished, and we venture to predict that his official record will be so satisfactory that the country will ever congratulate itself upon his selection by the President.

We have seen it stated that, notwithstanding the apparent advantage in North Carolina over Virginia in expenses, the tax-rates in these States differs but 5 cents on the $100 in favor of North Carocents on the $100 in rayor of North Caro-lina, her rate being 35 cents and ours 40 cents. We are not positive that this is true, but the subject is worth investigat-ing, and there should be material at Roa-roke to verify an oversal. noke to verify or correct whatever state ments have been made in respect to these things.—The Norfolk Landmark. Our State tax is not large. It is the ounty tax that bears heavily upon the Virginia tax-payers. Our State rate is 40 cents on the $100. North Carolina's is, or was lately, 28 cents on the $100 for State purposes, and 15 cents for school purposes; but in North Carolina the ounty government is inexpensive.

The lower house of the New York Legislature has under consideration a bill placing Lloyd insurance companies under the supervision of the Insurance Department. The Lloyds are fighting the measure vigorously. They claim that the provision requiring them to put up a deposit of $200,000 with the State Department, as a guarantee fund, will result in wiping many of them out of existence. Two public hearings have been held on the bill. How the Assembly committee which has the measure in its keeping feels disposed towards it has not developed thus far.

After meeting with much popular success in Boston, the dramatic version of Du Maurier's "Trilby," prepared for Mr. A. M. Palmer by Paul M. Potter, was produced Monday evening before a crowded audience in the Garden Theatre, of New York, and was received with a degree of favor which makes it tolerably certain that it will remain there for a considerable time to come.

The Norfolk Phot of yesterday appeared for the first time in many weeks without the standing demand upon Governor O'Ferrall to "cancel the contract." This would seem to indicate that the paper means to deal with the school-book question in the future in a better temper than it has done hitherto.

The Southern New England Telephone Company has reduced rates at thirdclass exchanges-exchanges in small towns-so that residences on party wires within one mile of the central office will be charged $2 a month and business houses 33 a month. Each half mile will add $1 a year. Cor esponding rates at second-class exchanges will be $3 a month, $4 a month, and $2 a year for each half mile additional. Reductions will also be announced soon for New Haven, Hartford, Bridgeport, and Water-proverbial combination. The hearty man who is always laughing doesn't have any trouble with his digestion. It has been said that laughing makes people healthy. The truth is that health makes people laugh. There isn't any other thing so essential to health as regularity in the action of the bowels. Most all sickness starts with some derangement of the digestive functions. Good digestion means good, pure blood, and that means strength. Once let the bowels become clogged with refuse matter, and the whole system is deranged. Impure, poisonous matter gets into the blood and plants the seeds for all sorts of sickness.

Whenever there is a stoppage of the intestinal action, help should be given immediately. Usually a mild, gentle laxative is all that is necessary. A violent, wrenching, griping cathartic is never needed. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most pleasant and successful remedy for occasional or chronic constipation, or costiveness. They are tiny, sugarcoated anti-bilious granules that even the smallest child can easily take. They act in perfect accord with nature and produce no griping or other disagreeable feeling. They should be taken at the first indication of digestive trouble. They stop sour stomach, belching, "heart-burn," flatulence and sick headache. They cure constipation permanently. You can stop taking them after the bowels are thoroughly regulated. Their pelp lasts. You do not become a slave to their use as with other pills.
